MRS. CHADWICK HID $1,000,000?

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES SAY THEY HAVE TRACE OF IT.

Also a Large Amount of Jewelry Cleveland Newspaper Says the Woman Was After $500,000 Before Fleeing to Brussels to Defy Her Many Victims,

CLEVELAND, Feb. 18,-The Leader to- the ground that it was secured.

One million dollars is the amount beleved to be securely hidden by Mrs. Cassie L Chadwick. Collector of Customs Reach has so ininutely traced the operations of his woman during the last four years that he is in a position to know that the item saved from her many financial transactions is $1,000,000 in cold cash. In addition to this sum, the woman has astassafely placed $150,000 worth of jewels. Her arrest nipped plans right at a time ther they were about to bloom. A delay of a few more days would certainly have placed Mrs. Chadwick, her son, Emil Hoover hadwick, and her husband, Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick, in Brussels, and Mrs. Chadwick's fortune would then have been $2,000,000. It was her desire to make just one more deal with $500,000 as the stake.

The action of United States Attorney John J. Sullivan in causing her arrest when he did was the checkmate move which spelled the word defeat. Strange as it may seem, the men from whom she wished get this last $500,000 were the most severe the criticism of the action of the United States Attorney, which they, at the time, characterized in bitter language as hasty

Among the Federal authorities the belief is strong that Mrs. Chadwick was sanguine of carrying to success her deep laid plans, p to the time she made her sensational She never wavered from her purose of carrying them out until that time, anding the publicity which the suit of Herbert Newton of Brookline, Mass. precipitated.

Had she been successful in eluding the Secret Service men detailed to watch her and the newspaper men who thronged the have made her escape to Brussels in as direct a way as might be. There she would have settled down to enjoy the proceeds. tight fisted bankers and money lenders.

All of these agreed that these treaties furnished the very | Quarrel Over Roses Brings Up Greek's loopholes through which she might creep with the proceeds of her ill gotten gains and hugh at all efforts of pursuit. She could the extradited on the charge of forgery. It is positively known where large sums f money are on deposit in that city as about a year ago that Mrs.Chadwick enceived the bold idea of going to Brussels with the spoils of her career in high finance. She was shrewd enough to know that some day her victims would become disillusioned and that there would be a day of reckoning.

She determined to make one more strike, was the city of Pittsburg that she ected as the scene of the finale. She had already obtained $500,000 from Mr. A. Friend. He believed her story of her birth and parentage. In February of last year she sent her husband to Europe. About the same time a large consignment wed to have been sent to Brussels.

Mrs. Chadwick then began the cultivation of the proposed Pittsburg victims. She entertained them lavishly at her home

On these occasions servants of hers dressed her own gowns, posed as the wives of evelanders, and were introduced as such the guests from Pittsburg. There was negotiate the large loans she wanted make. The business was taking more me than she anticipated and being deirous of having certain jewels which were n Europe here to further her plans, she sent for the doctor, instructing bim what to bring with him.

He had been living at the Hotel Metrole, one of the most expensive hotels Brussels. From letters which the Federal authorities have in their possession was shown that the doctor expected o make his home there, and was creating the impression which Mrs. Chadwick had wished he should. He went to places, met fashionable people and conducted imself as a wealthy American. He returned on Aug. 19, 1904.

At last success seemed to be at hand relative to the Pittsburg money, and Mrs. Chadwick sent the doctor back to Europe again. He sailed on Nov. 9 of last year. Then the cloud burst and Mrs. Chadwick's arrest followed, though not without her making a grand effort in New York to obtain this last sum of money.

The United States Treasury Department was astonished at the magnitude of her purchases abroad and the ease with which she hoodwinked the New York customs officers. Up to the present time there have been traced purchases in Paris and Brusse's aggregating $122,000, and there are a number of other firms to be heard from in these cities. She also bought in Vienna, Geneva, Venice, Berlin, Frankfort-on-the-Main and in London. For some reason, she did not favor London with much of ber cash. Neither did s stay there long. In the event that she sould escape conviction under the present indictment against her the United States Treasury Department will take action against her. Estimated receipts of Mrs. Chadwick in four years: Lorain county, Ohio, $494,000; Cleveland, $120,000; other Ohio places, $50,000; Pittsburg, $600,000; New York city, $150,000; Boston, $126,000. Total, $1,539,000. Estimated expenditures of Mrs. Chadwick: Jewelry, $300,000; furniture and bric-4-brac, $50,000; four years travelling and ving expenses, as approximated from noranda, $100,000; attorney's fees, $50,-000; total, $500,000. In addition, there is $75,000 due to various dealers in Europe and the United States for goods purchased.

TRUSTEE FOR MRS. CHADWICK.

the Bursts Into Tears When Receiver Loeser Is Chosen by Claimants.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 18 .- A lively contest the election of a trustee to administer Mrs. Chadwick's affairs in bankruptcy curred in Referee Remington's court afternoon. Claims aggregating $79,589.89 were proved and participated in voting. Nathan Loeser, the receiver, has selected trustee by a vote of thirty-two sims, representing $47,907.16. was announced that Loeser was he Boston banker who brought suit in the Chadwick exposé, was reached, Mrs. Chadwick announced that she had no comment to make on it, neither acknowledging nor rejecting it. The amount of this claim is $173.783.

When forgery was mentioned in connection with the claim of the Citizens' National Bank of Oberlin, Mrs. Chadwick colored a trifle and turned her back to everybody present. The claim was for $340,000. Mr. Grossman objected to it on

"I believe they hold Andrew Carnegie's paper to the amount of $5,000,000 or $10,000,-000," he said.

We are not prepared to admit that the paper is forged," said Attorney Dennison of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, "but we admit that if it is worth anything at all it is worth more than the amount of the claim."

NOT MRS. MOBLY'S DOG.

Turner, Arrested at the Dog Show for

Theft, Is Not to Be Prosecuted. Baltimore, Md., Feb. 18.-Thomas W. Turner, formerly the agent in Baltimore of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was arrested on Thursday at the dog show in New York and locked up on a charge of stealing "Springhill Sister," a valuable collie which he exhibited, from Mrs. Mattie C. Mobly of Calverton road. He is now held pending the arrival of requisition papers to bring him

The dogs were brought to this city to-day, but Mrs. Mobly failed to identify them as her pets. For some time Marshal Farnan has received reports of thefts of valuable dogs, but the police seemed to be unable to obtain a clue until the recent dog show at Madison Square Garden in New York, which several Baltimoreans visited. The fact that Turner was formerly connected with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Baltimore and had charge of the dog pound here until recently caused the Baltimore visitors to pay some attention to his exhibit.

The specific charge against Turner is the larceny of the $400 collie dog. Springhill Sister. This will likely be dismissed, as Mrs. Mobly says the dogs taken from Turner are not her property.

Secret Service men detailed to watch her and the newspaper men who thronged the hotel where she was stopping she would have made her escape to Brussels in as direct a way as might be. There she would have settled down to enjoy the proceeds of her meteoric career among hard headed tight fisted bankers and money lenders.

Belgium was her haven. She had in her possession elaborate opinions of the leading Mobly's dog.

Turner was locked up at Police Headquarters on the last day of the dog show. The catalogue credits him with having four entries, all collie bitches. The names of the dogs credited to him are Springhill Statesman, Spring

Mrs. Rice and Sacelaris went to Sergt. Farrell of the Jefferson Market court squad and begged him to do something for them. There is no appropriation to pay policemen's fares in misdemeanor cases, but Farrell said be would send a man to Buffalo if Sacelaris would pay the expenses when he got his $500.

ROBBED LINER GEORGIC.

Money to Marry On.

Herbert Stacey, storekeeper aboard the White Star liner Georgic, lying at the foot of Bank street, North River, was arrested yesterday and taken to Police Headquarters for stealing a quantity of the ship's stores and equipment, including tarpaulins, boat and equipment, including tarpaulins, boat covers and 100 pounds of red paint.

Detectives Leeson, Moody and Aikman, the waterside sleuths, searched the ship, but found no trace of the plunder. Moody happened to look over the starboard side and saw a streak of red running from a coal port to the water line. The detectives decided that the streak was from one of the open cans of paint that had been stolen and that the loot had been lowered aboard a coal barge. This is a favorite way that a coal barge. This is a favorite way that smugglers in the stoke holds have of dis-

The detectives found the coal barge in Hoboken. The skipper had disappeared.
The stolen stuff was still aboard the barge. One of the crew intimated that Stacey had been concerned in the theft, and the detectives arrested him, telling him that detectives arrested him, tening him that the skipper of the barge was under arrest and had confessed. Thereupon Stacey owned up. He said that he was about to get married and that he had not enough money to start housekeeping on. He is a widower with two small children.

WABASH BEATS PENNSYLVANIA. The Latter Road Forbidden to Tear Up a

Switch-New Point in Railroading. PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.-The Wabash Railroad here to-day gained a signal victory over the Pennsylvania when Judge Rogers, in Common Pleas Court No. 2, handed down a decision making permanent the temporary injunction against the Pennsylvania, restraining it from lifting one of its own switches at Bridgeville, Pa. The decision is one which practically creates new ideas in railroading, and practically denies to any road the right to sever a working relation which it may have had with another road without the consent of the second party. In the Bridgeville case the Pennsylvania decided to tear up a switch which had been used by that road for the exchange of freight with the Wabash, which had tracks adjoining. When this was done Howard Gould was in Pittsburg and rushed into court and obtained an injunction.
